

A Committed Gardener!

Hello Fellow Gardeners

I am sending this email to find out how many of you from all allotment sites, would be interested in a social event on the Southwood Road allotments communal plot. In the form of a BBQ, should we get any nice weather this summer that is! We have had some parties in the past, but not for a couple of years, it is such a nice place where we could all enjoy an afternoon together.

How about helping me to organise this. Although we can all do our bit by bringing our own food, drinks etc. Anybody who is good at BBQ's would be really welcome. I only cook in my kitchen....

At the same time we could get to know each other, perhaps organise a bit of a swap/share 'club' to pass on spare plants, seeds, information, advice or anything that might be needed. We could have a swap/share table on the communal plot. Lots of opportunities to make digging and weeding a really nice experience.

It has been a really difficult spring and like a lot of people we are really behind with our planting and even digging, but we will catch up. How are you all managing???

So email me to let me know what you think and please give a little bit of time to help. Any ideas or comments welcome.

I look forward to hearing from you.
