

RUSTHALL THEATRE CLUB

For our next outing we have decided to go in a different direction and have secured stalls seats for the English Touring Theatre production of The Misanthrope by Roger McGough after Molière at the Theatre Royal Brighton. This will be on Wednesday, 1st May, 2013. The coach will depart from outside Rusthall Pharmacy at 5.45pm. The cost including both ticket and coach is £35.00.

Master wordsmith Roger McGough dips his quill into a Molière' classic in this mockery of manners and morals set amid 17th century French aristocracy. Considered by many to be Molière's best work, The Misanthrope will again join the creative forces of McGough, Director Gemma Bodinetz and English Touring Theatre.

Poet Alceste is disgusted with French society. Powdered fops gossip in code and be-jewelled coquettes whisper behind fans wherever he looks. In pursuit of honesty, he embarks on a one-man crusade against forked-tongues, frippery and fakery. But could the woman he has fallen in love with be the worst culprit of all? As Alceste dreams of a pas de deux, are the only deux of Célimène her faces? And in this rarefied world will his revolution prove just revolting?
